

Competitions & Offers

Everyone likes to win something occasionally. Like most radio stations Gravity FM will often run competitions for listeners and supporters. Some will be for prizes but many others are just for a bit of fun. They may take place on-air but others occur online or in person at local events. On occasions we are also able to offer listeners special offers or discounts for products or local businesses online.

When we run competitions we normally accept entries by email, text message or by telephone but we will tell you if this is different. Our normal phone and text numbers are charged at standard network rates (please note that text messages to our number are not included in free bundles provided by some providers) and again, we don't want you to have any nasty surprises when your bill arrives after entering a competition so we will tell you if there are additional charges for contacting us.
